

The Animal Healing Centre

JENNY SHONE
082 450 1158
jenny@animalhealing.co.za

www.animalhealing.co.za

Find us on facebook

NEWSLETTER - August 2011

3rd September - Basic Telepathic Communication Workshop in RANDBURG - Book NOW!

Hello everyone,

I want to speak to you a little about what a relationship means to you and how to develop the perfect relationship with your Guides, Angels and God.

How many times do we say "God please help me with this" or "Angels please help me with that" How many times do we actually blame our guides for everything that goes wrong in our lives?

Think a little about what makes a true and real friendship? Sharing makes a good relationship. It's a give and take situation. How many of our closest friends would still be our closest friends if all we ever did was "ask" and never "give". It is all about sharing. It's about making our angels, our guides, our god an active part of our lives. It's about including them in the good things and even the not so good things. It's about talking to them without always asking for something in return. It's about asking them what WE can do for them. It's about sitting outside in the evenings and sharing the beauty of the sun set with them with no expectations.

Remember our guides, angels and God are not here to run our lives for us. They are not here to make all our decisions. They are simply here to guide us through our lives but WE need to take responsibility for the decisions we make that affect our own lives. Some of our decisions will not always be the right ones but even the mistakes we make in our lives are there for a reason. If we don't make mistakes then how will we ever grow?

If we don't have a strong relationship with our unseen friends then how will we ever hear them when they try to guide us and show us the way?

Our unseen friends are our "friends" not our servants. Please don't forget to thank them for playing such an important role in our lives.

Sammy's News

Our new website is live! I am so excited and happy to say those words out loud and in writing!

It was well worth the effort and the wait. It will continue to grow and I hope it will provide education, entertainment, love and joy to all who view it and I hope it will become a favourite website that many will keep coming back to.

Something I will share more with everyone in the next newsletter are the incredible changes that are happening on a planetary scale and in ourselves, on a cellular level. For now, please enjoy the website.

Next Workshop

Our next workshop is a Basic Communication Workshop to be held in Ferndale, Randburg, Johannesburg on the 3rd September.

Email Sammy at Sammy@butlerworldwide.net / Sammy@animalhealing.co.za for more info and booking forms.

Plettenberg Bay Elephant workshop

Another exciting event that is coming up is our basic communication workshop with the Elephants to be held in Plettenberg Bay, at The Craggs Elephant Sanctuary.

It is going to be a fantastic workshop, and I would recommend it even for those who have done the basic communication workshop before, because being so close to and communicating with the elephants is going to be a life-changing experience. They have so much wisdom to share and so much to teach us about unconditional love, using our power for the greater good, family values and others.

Please share the poster with all whom you feel might be interested in attending. As it is in Plettenberg Bay, our costs are slightly more and so the workshop has to be more expensive.

Until then...

Jenny

Sammy

and the Animals