NEWSLETTER - December 2011

Hello Everyone!

Firstly let me say a BIG "Thank you" to all of you who joined us for our end of year party. It was great to see you on a social level.

The animals (especially Riff-Raff) were SO excited to have you on THEIR property!!!

Thank you also for all the generous donations that went to the Husky Rescue SA in Fourways, Highveld Horse care Unit in Meyerton and Paws and Purrs in Vanderbyl Park. They were all thrilled to receive these donations.

The party was absolutely stunning. We all had so much fun and lots of food. Thank you to Linda (my sister) for handling all the catering. I also want to say a special thank you to Sammy for all the hard work she puts into the running of the Animal Healing Centre. Some of the things Sammy excels at are the designing of all our posters, newsletters and even the website and she is doing a stunning job of heading up our tracking department, as well as being one of the communication consultants and animal healers. Thank you Sammy. You are a truly special lady and I am VERY lucky to have you working with me and being my friend.

Riff-Raff was the perfect host and went around greeting everyone at the party

Highlights of 2011

Some of the highlights of 2011 for me were our workshop in Plettenberg Bay where we connected with the elephants and walked with them into the forest. Then there was my visit to Dorset in the UK where I spent three days visiting Oshine the orang-utan. I am in the process of planning another visit to Oshine in early March and I can't wait!!!

LionsRock

The next highlight was when Helen Taylor from Animal Synergies and I went on a trip to meet the director of LIONSROCK in the Free State. LIONSROCK is one of only three sanctuaries for lions and other large cats in the entire country! What an incredible experience we had. Dr Amir Khalil is an amazing person. He is involved in rescue operations in some of the most dangerous countries around the world. One of his well-known rescues was recently in the Tripoli Zoo. The Zoo had been bombed and he took his team in to rescue the animals that had been left to fend for themselves. They are doing a really amazing job at LIONSROCK. Please look at their website and see if there is a way that you can help support them in their work.

We had so much fun with this little dog at Lionsrock. He was just so full of fun and went on all our game drives with us. He even ran around playing with the lions and tiger... from the other side of the fence of course!

The lions had a stunning enclosure

This beautiful chap is also a resident at LIONSROCK

Every single one of the animals at LIONSROCK has a special story. All the animals here have been rescued from dramatic circumstances in some of the most hectic countries around the world and are now living in the lap of luxury in the most beautiful and peaceful sanctuary.

S&R All Breeds Dog Training Centre, Boksburg

On Sunday 4th December I went to visit Mike and Lee-Anne at their dog school. They own the S&R All Breeds Dog Training Centre in Boksburg. I was met by the most stunning dogs. One by one the dogs brought their handlers to meet me. I was SO impressed with the way they train the dogs (or is it the way the dogs train their handlers!).

When Mike and Lee-Anne use telepathic communication skills in conjunction with dog handling knowledge and abilities, it makes them just that much more able to get the results they want out of these amazing dogs.

Some of the dogs had come from traumatic pasts but are now so happy and well adjusted. It just shows you what a little patience and a lot of understanding can do for your animal friends. This understanding can only be reached by means of deep telepathic connections. If you can understand what has happened in the dogs past, you will be able to help them process this and they will become far more relaxed and happy dogs in the future. If you don't know what is causing the so called behaviour issues, then how will you ever be able to correct them?

Well done Mike and Lee-Anne!!!

Sammy's Snippet

Hi everyone! Coming to the end of 2011 and WOW, this year has flown by!

I've been working with The Animal Healing Centre for just over three years now. I first joined as tracker, and assistant to Sandy, Jenny's then business partner and for the first two years, helped Sandy with marketing material and in the admin department, as well as being a tracker. So it's only been during the last year that I've worked closely with Jenny and that's the crux of my snippet this month. And no, it's not to moan about working hours, unreasonable demands or overtime.... Heh, heh. No, those don't feature.... I want to write a little tribute to Jenny.

Firstly, I want to highlight Jenny's amazing teaching abilities. She spends a lot of time in preparation for each workshop, and without fail, provides a beautifully charged space within which each participant can safely discover and develop their own innate telepathic abilities. So many disparate personalities come together in these workshops, and Jenny effortlessly melds these personalities together into a supportive and healing group. In fact, she does it so quietly and effortlessly that it's only after being involved so closely with the workshops this last year that I have noticed how well she does this with all workshop groups.

The second thing about Jenny that I want to mention is the incredible healing influence she has on people. Many people come to her to work on their animals and heal the animals, and its often through working with their animals that Jenny creates a platform for the humans to change, grow, heal and release. Not only her clients, but most people who meet her, come away a better person for having met her.

Lastly, I want to pay tribute to Jenny's awesome love, respect, compassion and caring for all creatures on this earth. She is an example to all of humankind about how to live in harmony with the earth and its creatures.

Thank you, Jenny, not just from the bottom of my heart... but from all of my heart, for all you have taught and shared with me. I am blessed and honoured to have you as a friend.

Trackers

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our team of trackers for the work they have done this year. Their own personal healing strengths have helped the group as a whole improve and enhance our shared tracking skills. Through sharing techniques, and tweaking each one to make it work best for the individual, I feel our trackings are that much more successful in helping the animals.

Thank you Joan, Tammy and Hayley. You guys are doing so well in one of the hardest areas of telepathic communication. Keep up the good work.

Jenny has been out of the publicity spotlight for much of 2011, focusing her energies on re-aligning the aims and intentions of The Animal Healing Centre and making sure the foundations are strong for what the future will bring.

2011 saw us move forward technologically with the development of a new website and Facebook page, as well as making the telepathic communication workshops, Levels 1 and 2, available as home study courses. Our tracking department has also seen some major enhancements, through registering each of our trackers and establishing a common agreement on the aims and intentions of the tracking department. Our trackers are continuously improving and enhancing their skills, bringing more techniques to each tracking session with the aim of helping each and every animal find peace.

Our aims and intentions for 2012 are to increase the awareness of animal communication, to teach more people that animals DO have souls and DO need to be treated with some respect and consideration. With the help of friends in different cities, who will assist with the marketing and workshop facilitation, we aim to travel more in 2012, working with animals, and humans throughout the country. We will also be making more of the workshops and courses available through the home-study option, and Jenny will spend more time on her next book.

Our workshop on Reiki Healing for Animals had to take a rest this year, but Sammy aims to begin teaching it in 2012.

Season's Greetings

And so, to end this newsletter, we wish you all of the best for this Christmas Season. Please keep your animal's in mind and help them understand the confusion and chaos that is often part and parcel of a human's Christmas season.

With much love and light

Jenny, Sammy
and the animals
