Scrap-metal suspects acquitted for lack of evidence

VANDERBIJLPARK. A case of theft against a truck driver and his assistant, arrested after being caught red handed by Police in a secluded area, off loading 28 tons of scrap-metal worth R40 000, was withdrawn by the Vanderbijlpark Magistrates' Court on April 20.

When the two appeared in Court the following day, they denied guilt.

They testified that they had been hijacked by thugs and driven to the secluded area. They testified that when the police arrived at the scene of crime, the alleged hijackers sped off.

This got them off the hook as the Court could apparently not link them solidly enough to the crime. Apparently there was not enough evidence.

According to the Burgerling police, the two were arrested in a secluded area at Nyaka Street in Boipatong on April 18.

Police said other suspects had run in the direction of the Boipatong squatter camps. They left behind a driver and his assistant, said Police.

When Police asked the driver what they were looking for in the area, as they were supposed to offload the scrap at Cape Gate, the driver seemed apologetic. He promised Police he would never do it again.

Police who saw some of the metal on the ground said the driver agreed that the metals "belonged to" the lorry.

The owner of the truck, Mr André van Niekerk of Parys, was called to identify his goods. According to him, the 28 tons loaded in the truck were worth R40 000. He said the metal was supposed to be dropped at Cape gate.

'Dr Doolittle' besoek S'burg

Marietta van Wyk

SASOLBURG. Op Dinsdag 03 Mei sal Jenny Shone, alleenvel dr. Doolittle, die vrou van Dames Aktuel sy deur hul vergadering wat om 19:00 by die Casa Magazinhuis plaasvind, toespreek.

Jenny Shone is 'n telepatiese diere-kommunikeerder en behalwe dat sy met wilde en huisdiere kommunikeer, is sy ook opgelei in Reiki, ESP, Cranio sensory perception' en diere-pelikoloogie.

Deur gebruik te maak van hierdie metodes kan sy bepaal wat 'n dier makeer.

Sy het onder die leiding van Amelia Kinkade, een van die wêreld se bekendste diere-kommunikeerders, studeer. Jenny sê mense en diere is baie eenders en moet leer om met mekaar te kommunikeer. Deur kommunikeer deur hul gedagtes en gevoelens. Mense moet leer om boodskappe te ontvang en te stuur soos wat diere doen. Enigeen kan volgens haar leer om met diere te kommunikeer, mens moet jouself net oopstel vir die moontlikheid.

Jenny het reeds in kind met diere gepraat en haar sick diere is deur haar talent gesond.
